DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF, HEADQUARTERS, Saturday, Nov. 15, 1862.

Two elaborate orders, containing a most thorough statement of Gen. BUTLER'S administration of the military department, was published here by the local papers, and read by the citizens with lively gratitude. It was a proper compliment and an evidence of just appreciation of the social labor and devotion to duty of Gen. BUTLER. There cannot be a doubt but that when the history of this rebellion is written, the taking of New-Orleans and its subsequent history under civil, military and civil administration will prove one of the most remarkable and most brilliant episodes.

The work from the local chief of war, the Lafourche country, is, that the evidence and small property holders have returned to Thibodaux and the surrounding neighborhoods, all anxious that the National Government will be sustained and that they can come forward and take the oath of allegiance, and again enjoy the former prosperity under the old flag. The planters, with few exceptions, have abandoned their homes, and have gone into the piney settlements "to secede," leaving their property by still "thicker" rebels—the first to be condemned and seized for the benefit of loyal soldiers, the latter "may yet be left to take the logs of the evening and morning sun." The history of the past few days has been begun by a simple proclamation of the several "orders" which have been issued by the active Commanding General of this Department.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE COUNTRY RECENTLY RECOVERED.

The first one relates to the future government of the distinctly peculiar country of the Lafourche; the wisdom of the measures proposed must meet with the hearty concurrence of all citizens who desire to "secede" not into rebellion. I should add that the Commission is composed of gentlemen alike distinguished for their intelligence and probity. Probably, there is not a man in the Union better fitted by nature, acquirements and education for the responsible office imposed upon him than Major J. M. BULL. But in the orders, let the men speak for themselves.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF, NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 5, 1862.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 91.—The Commanding General being informed, and believing, that the District west of the Mississippi River, lately taken possession of by the United States troops, is most largely occupied by persons disloyal to the United States, and whose property has become liable to confiscation under the Acts of Congress and the Proclamation of the President, and that sales and transfers of said property are being made under the pretense of depriving said property of protection of the laws of the United States, and of thus protecting the rights of all persons, as well as those of the Government and for the support of government, the same now growing so be taken care of and preserved, and the encouragement intended to be given to loyal men, and provision made for payment for their labor, it is ordered, as follows:

I. That all the property within the District to be known as the "District of Lafourche," to be and hereby is sequestrated, and all sales or transfers thereof are and shall be held invalid.

II. The District of Lafourche will comprise all the parishes in the State of Louisiana lying west of the Mississippi River, except the Parishes of Plaquemine and Jefferson.

III. That Messrs. Bull, Provost Judge, President, Maj. Gen. N. P. Banks, A. B. C. Comm. Farragut (Seventy-fifth New-York Volunteers,) Provost Marshal of the District, be and hereby are appointed to take possession of the property in said District, to make an accurate inventory of the same, and to gather up and collect all such personal property, and transport it to the proper officers, upon receipt for the use of the United States, or to sell the same together with all other personal property, and bring the same to New-Orleans, and store it to be sold at public auction to the highest bidders, and after deducting the necessary expenses of care, collection and preservation, to hold the proceeds thereof subject to the order of loyal citizens and those intending to become, who, in good faith, shall apply for the same, and to the order of the State.

IV. Every loyal citizen or neutral foreigner who shall be found in said District and claim ownership of any property in said district not having acquired the same by purchase since the first day of September last, will have his property returned or delivered to him, without fee, upon establishing his condition to the satisfaction of the Commission.

V. All sales made by any person not a loyal citizen or neutral foreigner since the 15th day of September, shall be held void, and all sales whatever, made with the intent to deprive the Government of its rights of confiscation, will be held void, at what time soever made.

VI. The Commission is authorized to employ in working the plantation of any person who has remained within the Confederacy, whether he be loyal or disloyal, the negroes who may be found in said District, or who have or may hereafter claim the protection of the United States, upon the terms set forth in a memorandum of a contract made between Messrs. Bullard, Bullard & Co. of Plaquemine and St. Bernard, or which may be employed at the election of the Commission.

VII. The Commissioners will cause to be purchased such supplies as may be necessary, and provey them to such convenient depots as to supply the planters in the making of the crop, which supplies will be charged against the crop manufactured and shall constitute a lien thereon.

VIII. The Commissioners are authorized to work for the account of the United States such plantations as are deserted by their owners, or are held by disloyal owners, as may seem to them expedient, for the purpose of saving the crops.

IX. Any persons who have not been actually in arms against the United States since the occupation of New-Orleans by its forces, and who shall remain peaceably upon their plantations, affording no aid or comfort to the enemies of the United States, and who shall return to their allegiance, and who shall, by all reasonable methods, aid the United States when called upon, and be encouraged by the Commission to work with their own plantations, to make their own crops, and to retain possession of their own property, crops such as is necessary for the military uses of the United States. And to all such persons the Commission are authorized to furnish means of transportation for their crops and supplies, at fair and reasonable rates.

X. The Commissioners are empowered and authorized to hear, examine, and carefully report upon all cases of the loyalty, disloyalty or neutrality of the various claimants of property within said District; and further, to report such persons as in their judgment ought to be recommended by the Commander-in-Chief to the President for amnesty and pardon, so that they may have their property restored to them, and that all persons that are loyal may suffer as little injury as possible; and that all persons who have been misguided thereby may have an opportunity now to prove their loyalty and to secure their allegiance, and to save their property from confiscation. If such shall be the determination of the Government of the United States.

By command of Maj.-Gen. BUTLER.
GEO. C. STRONG, A. A. C. and Chief of Staff.

INTERFERENCE NO MORE PUNISHABLE.

Gen. BUTLER having delegated of a matter that will possibly put some millions of dollars in the hands of honest loyal citizens, next turns his attention to the cause of misapprehension, and at one magnificent blow strikes at the root, as follows:

GENERAL PROVOST-MARSHAL-GENERAL LOUISIANA, NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 6, 1862.

By direction of the Commanding General, notice is hereby given to all proprietors, within this Department, of distilleries and breweries where stills, and of distilleries in buildings where strong liquors are distilled or rectified, and breweries where strong beer is made, that they must cease manufacturing, and close their places of business on Saturday, 8th inst.

JONAS H. FRENCH,
Provost-Marshal-General Louisiana.

Having dealt with the sinning criminal, he next takes up the subject as it related to the soldiers, and properly disposes of the matter thus:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF, NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 11, 1862.

GENERAL ORDER No. 93.—I. Any commissioned officer who is found drinking intoxicating liquors in any drinking place, or other public house, within this Department, will be recommended to the President for dismissal from the service.

II. All police officers are ordered to report, in writing, to these headquarters, all instances of the violation of this order which may come under their notice. By command of Maj.-Gen. BUTLER.

R. S. DAVIS, Captain and A. A. A. G.

SUBSIDIZED THE LOCAL PRESS.

The local Press next comes in for some instructions. For the last month the conducters of the covertly secession sheets have gradually increased upon the liberty allowed them, and taking advantage of it, have managed to get in many articles which have no other effect than to keep the community uneasy and retard the growth of a healthy and truthful public sentiment. Gen. BUTLER, to accommodate these papers, in a spirit of good nature, has allowed them from time to time to send to him their paper and receive "exchanges from Southern papers," and he has spent his over-extended time in looking over the frauds and marking such as he deemed it proper to publish. This "sufferance" was so frequently repeated that he at last repeated his general instructions that no treasonable matter should appear, signifying at the same time that he would not be bored by this annoying personal supervision, and stating that they (the editors) were intelligent enough to draw an intelligent conclusion as to what his order meant. Not to be headed off, these papers commenced a new dodge, and began to quote "treason," which they omitted to Northern papers. The General again called them to task, and informed these industrious gentlemen, that treason in the New-York papers was just as offensive to him as treason in the Richmond papers. But it would seem that so learned in the spirit of hatred to our institutions that it would crop out, as the result is shown in the first victim, as follows:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF, NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 14, 1862.

SPECIAL ORDER No. 513.—The Daily Advocate, having, after warning, published the following article:

THE BALLOT-BOX.

This palladium of our liberties, this charter of our rights, this emblem of Democracy, has been speaking in a voice of thunder—as we knew it would, if the people could be aroused from its slumber. It has been our unceasing endeavor to awake them throughout the nation.

We were the first to tell our readers of its success in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, and now we have gratifying reports from Illinois, New-Jersey and New-York. If these reports be confirmed, an armistice will soon follow. Negotiations once commenced, there will not be any more fighting. Whether an armistice results from the Democratic success, or from foreign intervention, we shall hail it as a peace measure to be welcomed by all parties.

The publication of that journal will be discontinued from this date.

By command of Major-Gen. BUTLER.
Geo. C. Strong, A. A. General.

NO SLAVES OF REBELS TO BE ARRESTED.

In the meantime, the General noted, per advertisements in the papers, that our city prisons were filling up with what were termed runaway negroes, who were held "until applied for by their masters." This wrong was redressed in a few lines:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF, NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 1, 1862.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 88.—I. No person will be arrested as a slave, by any policeman or other person, and put in confinement for safe keeping, unless the person arresting knows that such person is owned by a loyal citizen of the United States.

II. The Inspector and Superintendent of Prisons is authorized to discharge from confinement all slaves not known to be the slaves of loyal owners.

By command of Maj.-Gen. BUTLER.
Geo. C. Strong, A. A. General.

RELIEF OF THE POOR WHITES.

The monstrous legislation of this city—the fruits of rebellion and the oppression naturally growing out of the management of a servile population—among other things decreed that no white man should be a hand on a steamboat, and that no white man should work on the levee—this legislation has created on the statute book here laws regarding the collection of rents, which are more atrocious in their oppression of the poor than I deemed it possible to devise. I could give you columns of incidents, showing with what tiger-like rapacity landlords and landlords' agents pursue their tenants, the veriest slave-driver having no more power over the property of his victim than does the unfortunate tenant in this city. So great had become the evil that it was finally a matter of necessity that it should be arrested, which has been done by the following humane proclamation.

STATE OF LOUISIANA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 7, 1862.

GENERAL ORDER No. 15.—In view of the present distressed condition of many tenants and debtors, household furniture not exceeding three hundred dollars in value, is hereby exempted from any liability to be taken on writs of provisional seizure until further orders.

When the furniture of the debtor is claimed by the creditor to exceed that amount in value, the Judge in whose court the case may be pending, may appoint one appraiser, who shall set off to the debtor such furniture as the debtor may select, not exceeding three hundred dollars in value, and the excess only shall be liable to seizure.

By order of Brig.-Gen. G. F. SHEPLEY,
Military Governor of Louisiana.
JAS. F. MILLS, A. A. General.

HON. REVERDY JOHNSON'S VISIT—STRANGE DEVELOPMENTS.

In one of my recently written letters, I endeavored to give you some slight idea of the external history of Hon. REVERDY JOHNSON'S visit to this city. The internal consequences are beginning to develop themselves. Among the seizures of specie made by Gen. BUTLER was a large amount of specie claimed by French citizens, and of course was taken possession of by Gen. BUTLER under protest for the French Consul. This case was one eventually referred to the astute, Union-loving Commissioner, and he adjudged the Government to pay back the money to the French Consul. It now appears that developing history justifies the action and the sagacity of the Commanding General, for it now appears that this was money belonging to New-Orleans citizens, and was taken in charge by the French Consul to pay for cloth now in Havana, awaiting to run the blockade, to be used by the Confederate Government. The money which was thus handed out to the rebel authorities, in accordance with Mr. JOHNSON'S recommendations, was discovered, some days after, by an officer of the United States, and forty days on board of the Spanish war steamer Isabella de Corea, and that the money was borrowed from the Bank of New-Orleans by J. D. B. DeBow, agent for the Richmond Government, as will appear from the following correspondence:

NEW-ORLEANS, April 14, 1862.

The undersigned having been requested to furnish the Quartermaster of this post with the amount of pending Mr. Gravenstein's bill for army supplies, amounting to four hundred and five thousand dollars, (405,000,) desires to borrow that amount from the Bank of New-Orleans, in cash, without interest, on the credit of the Confederate States, and makes this application for the same.

J. D. B. DEBOW, Agent Produce Loan.
BANK OF NEW-ORLEANS, April 14, 1862.

J. D. B. DeBow, Esq., Agent Produce Loan:

Sir: This Bank has received your application for a loan of (405,000) four hundred and five thousand dollars in cash to the Confederate States Government for the purpose of paying the bill of H. Gravenstein & Co., for some clothing, and we have much pleasure in acceding to your proposition. Respectfully yours,

J. H. KELLY, Cashier.

The French Consul, you will remember, was one of the active agents and friends of Mr. JOHNSON, while he was here, interfering with Gen. BUTLER'S Department, and, as will now be seen, innocently or not, playing into the hands of the Secessionists. The said French Consul, finally having lost his cloak, the discovery of it by his unusual interference, and thereby implicate his Government, withdrew the original receipts given, and substituted other ones, French subjects here, Messrs. E. Gravenstein & Co., and two gentlemen of the name of La Mate, one of whom, by the order of Gen. BUTLER, is at Fort Jackson, the other at Fort Pickens. DAVIS, the President of the Bank, and WEVILL, the Bank Detective, are now in prison, awaiting a trial for their crimes.

The present Board of Directors, all of whom are believed to be innocent of any complicity in the transaction, and not one of whom even suspected his actions, until informed of it by Gen. BUTLER. The Bank, from a temporary suspension, has again resumed its business.

Thus the world will now understand what Gen. BUTLER probably knew all the while, that the untiring JOHNSON has been completely hoodwinked and deceived, and the citizens of the United States Government, by his unhappy interference with things he could not understand, have been robbed of nearly a half million dollars for the benefit of the Government at Richmond.

At this unhappy time, the country has lost this large amount of specie, which the bank of New-Orleans originally loaned to the Confederate Government without interest, which should have been kept to redeem the notes and liabilities of its own note-holders—or loaned this money at night, the dollars to be seized by the cotton planters under the Confederate Government. I am anxious to hear what will be the decision of Mr. JOHNSON. That he was under evil influences here was so patent at the time of his visit as it is now. Will not this be a lesson to let alone Congress commanding in the field, and doing it successfully too, and of all men, why should Gen. BUTLER have been cudgelled with a visit from REVERDY JOHNSON? Gen. BUTLER has now, I am happy to say, taken the reins in his own hands, and he will not only stop future abuses, but see that justice is done to the stock and innocent bill-holders.

A UNION TORCH-LIGHT PROCESSION.

To-night we shall have one of the grandest Union torch-light processions ever got up in this city, always so famous for attractive pageants. The following "order" will give a suggestive idea:

SATURDAY MORNING, Nov. 15, 1862.

The St. Charles Theatre will be opened on Saturday evening, Nov. 15, at 3½ o'clock. The meeting will be called to order precisely at 6 o'clock. The different delegations will enter the building as they arrive at the theatre. The torch-light procession will take place after the speaking have been delivered. The different Ward Associations will then form in Canal-street, in accordance with programme to be published—head of Camp. It will march down Royal to St. Peter-street, down St. Peter to Chartres, up Chartres to Canal, up Camp and Prytania streets to Felicity Road, thence to Magazine-street, where the up-town delegations, if they desire to do so, will leave the procession; thence down Magazine-street to Jails, past Gen. BUTLER'S Headquarters, thence to Canal-street and be dismissed.

Hon. J. AD. ROBERT to preside at the meeting, assisted by fifty Vice-Presidents.

Orators, Hon. Thos. J. DURANT and Col. H. C. DEVEREX, U. S. V., and Acting Mayor of New-Orleans.

Private and stage boxes appropriated to Maj.-Gen. BUTLER and Staff, Gen. SHEPLEY and Staff, Military Commission, Admiral FARRAGUT and suite, and other Federal officers attached to the army and navy.

The seats appropriated to the ladies will be exclusively occupied by them, and positively no more than four hundred "admissions" will be distributed.

The Assistant Marshals will report at 1 o'clock today at the Lyceum Hall for instruction. Each Marshal will provide his own saddle and bridle; the horses will be furnished the Assistant Marshals by the Committee of Arrangements.

The Executive Committee, and all persons officially interested in the success of the celebration, will meet at the Lyceum to-day, at 1 o'clock punctually.

Col. T. B. THORPE, Grand Marshal.

A CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION.

The political world here was this morning agitated. It seems we are to have a Congressional Delegation at Washington. If good and judicious men are elected it will be a good thing for the country, if otherwise it is a pity that the election has been ordered. The proclamation has an especial interest:

A PROCLAMATION.

By Brig.-Gen. George F. Shepley, Military Governor of the State of Louisiana.

WHEREAS, The State of Louisiana is now and has been without any Representatives in the Thirty-seventh Congress of the United States of America; and whereas a very large majority of the citizens of the First and Second Congressional Districts in this State, by taking the oath of allegiance, have given evidence of their loyalty and obedience to the Constitution and laws of the United States;

Now, therefore, I, George F. Shepley, Military Governor of the State of Louisiana, for the purpose of ensuring to the loyal electors in the Parishes comprising these two Congressional Districts, their appropriate and lawful representation in the House of Representatives of the United States of America, and of enabling them to avail themselves of the benefits secured by the proclamation of the President of the United States to the people of any State, or part of a State, who shall, on the first day of January next, be, in good faith, represented in the Congress of the United States, by members chosen thereto, at elections wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such State have participated—have seen fit to issue this, my proclamation, appointing an election to be held on Wednesday, the third day of December next, to fill said vacancies in the Thirty-seventh Congress of the United States of America, in the following Districts, namely:

The First Congressional District, composed of that part of the City of New-Orleans heretofore known as Municipality number One and Municipality number Three, and now designated as Districts numbered Two and Three, and Suburb Treme, that portion of the Parish of Orleans lying on the right bank of the Mississippi, and the Parishes of St. Bernard and Plaquemines.

The Second Congressional District in the State of Louisiana, composed of that part of the City of New-Orleans above Canal-street, known as the First District, and District numbered Four, formerly of the City of Lafayette, and of the Parishes of Jefferson, St. Charles, St. John the Baptist, St. James, Ascension, Assumption, Lafourche, Terrebonne, St. Mary and St. Martin.

Writs of elections will be issued, as required, and the election held at the places designated by law.

The proceedings will be conducted, and returns thereof made, in accordance with law.

No person will be considered as an elector qualified to vote, who, in addition to the other qualifications of an elector, does not exhibit to the Registrar of Voters, if his residence be in the City of New-Orleans, or to the Commissioners of Election, if his residence be in any other place in said districts, the evidence of his having taken the oath of allegiance to the United States.

Given under my hand and the seal of the State of Louisiana, at the City of New-Orleans, this fourteenth day of November, A. D. 1862, and of the independence of the United States of America, the eighty-seventh. GEO. F. SHEPLEY,
Military Governor of Louisiana.

By the Governor,
JAMES F. MILLS, Acting Secretary of State.

THE RETURNED PRISONERS.

We learn from one of the non-commissioned officers of the Ninth Vermont Regiment, the following interesting particulars of the capture, detention, etc., by the Confederates, of a portion of their regiment:

A part of three companies, B, G and H, were on detached duty at Baypoint near Allemaney, on the 4th of September last, when they were surprised and made prisoners by a party of 1,200 or 1,500 Confederates, of mounted Texan rangers, commanded by Maj. Hay. Wounded Lieutenant Bennett was left on the ship D. Lafontaine, where subsequently died, and was buried by the Texans, with military honors, on the next day. The prisoners were then taken to Sabine City, where they took the cars for Beaumont, thence to Orange, thence by stage to Niblett's Bluff, thence by steamer down the Sabine to Sabine City, where they were transferred to the Texas, and thence to Galveston, where they were confined in the City Hall, and kept there for two days, when they were transferred to the Harriet Lane

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE CASE OF MRS. BRINSMADE.

Continuation of the Trial of Superintendent Kennedy.

Evidence of Provost-Marshal Dugan—Mrs. Brinsmade's Conduct at Police Headquarters—Case Closed for the Prosecution.

OPENING OF EX-JUDGE DEAN FOR THE DEFENCE.

An Accumulation of Evidence that Provost-Marshal Baker was Responsible for the Arrest—Mr. Bowles's Lady to go Riding and then Fails to Keep his Appointment.

The trial of Police Superintendent KENNEDY was continued yesterday at Police Headquarters. The first witness sworn was Provost-Marshal General Senior DRAPER, who testified as follows:

TESTIMONY OF MARSHAL DRAPER.

I found Mrs. Brinsmade at the Station-house on the afternoon of the 1st of November; about the 1st of November; I cannot be more exact; I have no means of ascertaining in regard to Mrs. Brinsmade; she presented a letter from Dr. Tyng; as follows:

LETTER FROM DR. TYNG.

St. Bonaventure Monastery, Oct. 31, 1862.

Master Draper—My Dear Sir: Mrs. John H. Eldridge, of St. George's Church, bears this note. She is a friend of mine; lives in New-Orleans; has been there for years; is extremely anxious to see her husband, who is in the service of the United States, and has obtained permission for this purpose. Of course I have no knowledge of her, but Mr. Elliot is a very highly respected citizen, and is entirely trustworthy. If you can do anything to further her wishes, you will oblige me very much. Yours, with much regard, your friend and servant, STEPHEN H. TYNG.

I delivered the following letter to Mr. Kennedy:

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST-MARSHAL-GENERAL OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT, NEW-YORK, Nov. 1, 1862.

DEAR SIR: I am informed that Mrs. Brinsmade, late of New-Orleans, has been for upward of four weeks confined in your station-house. Her husband is now in the Union forces, by permission of the War Department, and has been for some time. Mrs. Brinsmade is a lady of the highest character, and I am satisfied that there is no cause for her detention. Yours, respectfully, S. DRAPER, P. M. General.

Upon the support of Mr. Kennedy's answer to that letter, he told me that she was arrested by order of the War Department; I then asked my associate in Washington to ascertain the facts for me, and he wrote me that he had learned at the War Department that she was not arrested by order of that Department, but by Mr. Kennedy; I then wrote to Mr. Kennedy for information in regard to the case as follows:

DRAPER TO KENNEDY AGAIN.

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST-MARSHAL-GENERAL OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT, NEW-YORK, Nov. 3, 1862.

John A. Kennedy, Esq., Superintendent of Police:

SIR: Mr. Blackwood, of Washington, your note of Saturday, in reply to my inquiry about Mrs. Brinsmade, I have just received a telegram, of which the following is a copy:

"WASHINGTON, Nov. 3, 1862.

S. DRAPER: Baker did not arrest Mrs. B. Says she was arrested by Kennedy. I write.

J. D. A."

I have also obtained a note still further on the subject, which I shall show you when I see you. Yours, S. DRAPER, P. M. General.

I received the following letter from Mr. Kennedy:

KENNEDY TO DRAPER AGAIN.

OFFICE OF SUPT. OF THE METROPOLITAN POLICE, No. 410 Broadway, corner of Elm, NEW-YORK, Nov. 3, 1862.

S. Draper, Esq., P. M. General:

SIR: I am in receipt of yours of to-day, and only have to reply that Mrs. Brinsmade was arrested in the City of Washington by Officer Dugan, one of Col. Baker's officers, together with the ship surgeon who was so much in her company in this city, and was released by Col. Baker, in Washington, and afterwards released by Col. Baker, while Mrs. Brinsmade was sent to New-York in custody of Officer Bowles, who was then one of Col. Baker's officers, to report to the Provost-Marshal Col. Baker, in Washington. Bowles, on bringing her to New-York, reported to me that he was a detective officer of Col. Baker's, and that he desired to be kept from publicity, with other persons, &c., and that he was intended to send her back to New-Orleans. On a subsequent visit of Col. Baker to this city in his interview with me, he stated he had arrived at the conclusion that I should be justified in detaining her, and requested me to do so, and asked me to send a discreet officer to take charge of her and deliver her to Col. Baker, in charge of the Provost-Marshal, in Washington. He also informed me that the design of sending her to New-Orleans was abandoned. You will perceive that I am merely conducting, at the present time, a correspondence between other parties, being arrested at the time the letter was made. I had never seen the lady, and had placed no officer in her care after her, with instructions to deliver the case over to the proper officer in Washington, as soon as we reached there, which was done. The receipt is in my hands subject to the disposal of Col. Baker, by the War Department.

Very respectfully, &c., JOHN A. KENNEDY, Supt.

On the same day I received the following telegram from Washington:

To S. Draper, Provost-Marshal, &c.: I did not arrest Mrs. Brinsmade. She was arrested by a detective officer from New-York, acting under the orders of John A. Kennedy, Superintendent of Police.

J. C. ALLEN, Provost-Marshal, War Department.

On the third of November I also received the following:

To SENIOR DRAPER, &c.: Mr. Baker has just shown me your telegram. He never arrested Mrs. Brinsmade or directed her arrest. Somebody-York officer came here and illegally, and without authority, arrested her. She is believed to be some impropriety, and certainly without authority. J. D. A.

P. H. WATSON, Assistant Secretary of War.

I came here and saw Mr. Kennedy, and asked about the case. Mr. Kennedy repeated what he had [illegible] Mr. Kennedy said he had not arrested Mrs. Brinsmade by order of the War Department; I told him I had information to the contrary; the War Department considered that she was not arrested by order; he showed me a copy of the letter addressed by Col. Baker to him, Oct. 15, as his authority for holding her.

Mr. Kennedy said he was ready to discharge Mrs. Brinsmade, on an order from the War Department; I showed him the documents, telegrams, &c., and the statements that the War Department did not recognize the commitment; he said he would release her if I desired it; I told him I thought that should be done, and he gave me the order, as follows:

THE ORDER OF RELEASE.

Capt. Slott, Twenty-second Precinct: NOV. 1, 1862.

Mrs. Brinsmade, late of New-Orleans, now in your custody, is to be released from custody forthwith, under the direction of the War Department.

JOHN A. KENNEDY, Supt. Police.

I then proceeded to the Station-house, obtained the release of Mrs. Brinsmade, and took her to the Clarendon, Park Hotel, and have not seen her since; at my request, Mr. Brinsmade and Dr. Phelps gave me a written statement of the case, which I have here. (These statements were not admitted as evidence.) Dr. Phelps was formerly in the Bellevue Hospital, and I know him.

Cross-examined by Mr. Dean—I am Provost Marshal of the War Department; do not remember when I was appointed; about the 21st of September; have been acting as Marshal since; there is no place for the confinement of United States prisoners in the City and County of New-York; it has been customary to confine United States prisoners in the city or county prisons; there is no law against it; I have directed Phelps to receive prisoners; I am receiving bounty money; and the Superintendent has been receiving money since Nov. 1, at my written request. The following is the note:

THE ORDER IN THE LOEWENTHAL CASE.

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST-MARSHAL OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

John A. Kennedy, Esq., Supt. Metropolitan Police:

DEAR SIR: Please receive and retain in your custody Philip Loewenthal, arrested for stealing bounty money from soldiers. I have taken affidavits to the charge of the Regiment, fully proving the charge, and will take measures to have him prosecuted and punished.

S. DRAPER, P. M. General.

Loewenthal was taken on that order by Mr. Kennedy, and has been detained ever since at the Station-house. Q.—Was Loewenthal discharged? A.—Yes, Sir. He was examined before me, and I discharged him, as I believed there is a military prison on Governor's Island; I do not know that that is in the City and county, although some of those gentlemen who have been voting here seem not to be. (Laughter.) I regarded a prisoner as the prisoner of the Judge-Advocate, and under the order of the Judge-Advocate only could he be released; I should not think it right for the Police Superintendent to discharge a prisoner thus committed to the care of Judge-Advocate Holt; I have no information of the case from Baker except through the telegrams; Baker has not written to me to my knowledge; I have no information that Baker spoke of the case to Weston before the arrest or consequent to it; I do not know that the War Department was ever informed of the case by Baker; Mr. Andrews did send me the following:

TELEGRAMS FROM ANDREWS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3, 1862.

S. DRAPER: Baker did not arrest Mrs. B. Says she was arrested by Kennedy. I write.

J. D. A.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.

S. DRAPER, Esq.: Neither the War Department nor Baker appear to know anything about Mrs. Brinsmade.

J. D. A.

Q.—Did Kennedy, in any of his interviews with you, claim to hold Mrs. Brinsmade by virtue of any arrest that he had made, or that was made under his direction? A.—No, Sir, I do not know that he did.

Q.—Did he not insist that the responsibility for her arrest was in Washington? A.—He claimed that it was entirely by the War Department.

Question by Mr. E. L. M. Barlow—When a Provost-Marshal receives a prisoner, is it his duty to receive the order in writing; in cases of apparent kidnapping the Provost-Marshal may be justified in taking the responsibility.

Q.—In the case of Mrs. Brinsmade, she was put into prison and remained there a great while, and it seems her commitment was a verbal one—the statements of Bowles as to what Baker told him. Is that order? A.—I never know such a case; it seems to me that, under such circumstances, I should take a certain kind of responsibility, as, for instance, a thief might get away before he could get an order to arrest him.

Q.—(By Mr. Dean)—Was this prisoner of yours (Loewenthal) committed by any magistrate? A.—I do not think I am here for that particular business.

Some objection being made to the inquiry into the case of Loewenthal, Mr. Dean said he proposed to show that Loewenthal was committed at the request of Mr. Draper, and not by a magistrate until after a writ of habeas was issued from the Supreme Court. He wished to show that there was no such thing as a commitment by a magistrate in the case of these arrests by order of the War Department.

Q.—Your request to Kennedy to hold Loewenthal was Mr. Kennedy's only order? A.—Yes, Sir.

MR. DEAN'S OPENING FOR THE DEFENCE.

Ex-Judge Gilbert Dean opened the case for the defence in a brief, lucid and comprehensive, but searching argument, and with analysis of the evidence. Mrs. Brinsmade and Mr. Kennedy was unjustly made responsible for the conduct which the Provost-Marshal, he was called upon to answer; that Mr. Kennedy had only done his duty in ordering Mrs. Brinsmade, who was reported to the proper Department at Washington; that she had not violated her trust and was not responsible for it; that his commission as Provost-Marshal having been revoked he had no power to discharge her without an order from the War Department; that Col. Baker, the Provost-Marshal of the War Department, was alone responsible for the arrest; that Baker had frequently by letter and in conversation, by detailing Officer Dugan and Deputy Lawrence and by paying Bowles' bills, admitted that she was arrested by Baker, was detained by his order, and would be discharged by his order; that Bowles had admitted that he made the arrest by order of Baker, and that by order of Baker she was kept in close custody; that the case was not made out on the part of the witness for the prosecution, but that Mr. Kennedy wished further to put in a complete and ample justification. Judge Dean made a searching analysis of the evidence, showing that Baker was not only contradicted by others, but that he contradicted himself, and that Mr. Kennedy's course from beginning to end was proof positive that he was not responsible for either the arrest or detention of Mrs. Brinsmade. He had plainly said he did not believe the testimony of Baker; that the matter had never been duly reported to the War Department. In conclusion, Mr. Dean made an earnest appeal to the Press that had so unjustly charged Mr. Kennedy with exceeding his duty, to weigh well the evidence and see whether it was really Kennedy or the War Department or Provost-Marshal Baker who was responsible.

TESTIMONY FOR DEFENCE.

Dr. Phelps, who was present, identified a paper written by Bowles, in the office of the Old Capitol Prison at Washington, the morning after his arrest. The paper was a receipt for twelve dollars, signed by Bowles, "Provost-Marshal Baker." The money belonged to Mrs. Brinsmade.

Officer Williams was sworn, and testified that when the steamer Fulton arrived here from New-Orleans, on the 15th of September, he went on board in his capacity as an officer, and was informed by Mr. Burt, that Mrs. Brinsmade was a passenger, and was probably a rebel spy, and had important papers; that she had probably given the papers to Dr. Phelps; that he had not better arrest her then, as he might not get the papers; when the carriage came, I stopped it, but afterwards Mrs. Brinsmade got in, and after doing some shopping on Broadway, went without molestation to the Everett House, which fact witness duly reported to his Sergeant.

Officer Charles Gordon, who was on the dock at the time of the arrival of the steamer, said he had heard an officer—who proved to be Mr. Burt of the Provost-Marshal's office of New-Orleans—say, "We have a secesh woman on board; her husband is an officer in the rebel army; she is very intimate with the Doctor; there she comes now!" other persons spoke about her besides Burt, and about her conversation with the passengers.

Sergeant Van Hagen was sworn, and testified, that on the 5th of September he was on duty on the arrival of the steamer Fulton; met Officer Gordon and Officer Williams; the latter made an official report that the Deputy Provost Marshal of New-Orleans had called his attention to a secesh lady; witness made an official report of the case to Mr. Kennedy; Mr. Burt said she was a rebel spy, and had important papers; that she was intimate with the Doctor; that it would not do to arrest her here; that when she left for Washington she would have the papers; the officers said she had made herself offensive to the passengers; I reported all the information to the Superintendent.

TESTIMONY OF SERGEANT YOUNG.

Sergeant Young, of the Detective Force, was sworn, and testified to the reception of the report of the officers of Mrs. Brinsmade's arrival, her intimacy with Dr. Phelps, her conduct and conversation on the passage, of her husband being in the rebel army, of her being a talented woman, and that it would require a good deal of care to detect her in any treasonable act; that he had received these facts from Mr. Kennedy, who directed him to place a suitable officer at the hotel to watch her; that Bowles was selected because he was not known as a Detective officer; that Bowles was instructed to take lodgings at the hotel, and watch her, and report to witness daily the progress of the case; that Bowles was instructed to follow her wherever she went; that if she went out of the District, Bowles was to follow her and report her to the Provost-Marshal of the District where she went; that she would probably go to Washington; that one went to Brooklyn, and Bowles, in accordance with instructions, followed her there; that if she went to Washington, Bowles was ordered to report to the Provost-Marshal of the District; that witness did not know there were two Provost-Marshals at Washington, and said nothing about Baker to Bowles; did not mention the name of Baker; told Bowles to report to the Provost-Marshal of the District; on the return of Bowles with Mrs. Brinsmade, on the 27th, Bowles reported the next morning that Mrs. Brinsmade was ordered to be kept in some safe place where she could not have communication with any one; witness asked Bowles why he reported to Baker, when he was ordered to report to the Provost-Marshal of the District of Columbia; Bowles said he had made inquiries, and thought that Baker was the proper person to report to. Bowles said when he got her "housed" (Mr. Dean—"Treed") he had reported to Col. Baker; that he had detailed to Col. Baker his observations of her movements; that Baker desired Bowles to remain, as he had conducted the case with great ability up to that time, and he (Baker) wanted Bowles to assist him; that Baker was pleased with Bowles' management of the case, and had detailed Officer Dugan to represent his office; witness understood that Bowles was in Baker's employ at that time; Bowles said Baker had paid him $30 expenses; did not say that he had received $12 50 from Dr. Phelps; when Bowles started, he said: "I have nothing to do with the arrest;" I said, "No, when you get to Washington, report to the Provost-Marshal of the District, then your mission is ended;" Mr. Kennedy's instructions were positively that Bowles should make no arrest; that she was to be followed in this way, and reported to the Provost-Marshal of the District; that was distinctly stated and impressed upon my mind; I never believed from anything that Mr. Kennedy said that he claimed to have authority to make arrests in Washington; by Mr. Kennedy's order witness instructed Bowles to try and procure passage for the lady to New-Orleans; Mr. Kennedy sent down to Col. Tompkins the letter from Baker as his authority for sending her to New-Orleans; Col. Tompkins said he could not send her on without an order from the War Department; when Bowles left to take the situation under Col. Baker; witness told Bowles to get from Baker either an order for the woman to be transported to New-Orleans or an order for her release; Bowles, on his arrival with Mrs. Brinsmade, reported to witness that it was the request of Col. Baker that Mrs. Brinsmade should have no communication with anything.

Officer George Elder, of the Detective force, was next sworn, and testified to the conversation with Bowles on his arrival on the morning of the 27th of September, when Bowles came in a coach with Mrs. Brinsmade, said she was secesh, and was to be kept without communication with outsiders; witness refused to receive her, stating that he had no accommodations; Bowles said he thought he (from the War Department and the orders were that she should be kept from communication with any one; witness referred Bowles upstairs to an Inspector, but, on application up-stairs, Bowles said the door was locked; there is always an Inspector on day and night when the Superintendent is not on duty at headquarters.

Inspector Leonard was recalled, and testified that he was present on Sunday morning, the 28th of September, when Dr. Phelps called; Capt. Bryan and witness were with Mr. Kennedy when the latter was about telling the funny incident of Dr. Phelps calling and getting him up early in the morning to see about Mrs. Brinsmade, and of his getting the letter from Provost-Marshal Baker after the Doctor called; and before the Doctor called at headquarters; just as the Superintendent was speaking about it, Dr. Phelps came in, and Mr. Kennedy said to him that he had received a letter from Provost-Marshal Baker, stating that if he had known that Mrs. Brinsmade had not gone to New-Orleans, he would not have discharged Phelps from arrest.

To Mr. Bowles—Mr. Kennedy's manner was unusually good-natured that morning. (Laughter.) I saw nothing in his demeanor that Dr. Phelps could take offence at.

George Roperet, clerk to Superintendent Kennedy, testified to the incidents of Dr. Baker's visit to Mr. Kennedy on the 15th of October. Mr. Kennedy asked Baker for an order for the release of Mrs. Brinsmade, saying "George, give this gentleman some paper." Mr. Kennedy went out and Baker sat down and wrote a letter and gave it to witness to give to Mr. Kennedy, and then went out. Witness gave it to Mr. Kennedy who upon reading it said, in a somewhat excited manner, "Good God, this is not what I wanted. I wanted an order for her release."

Capt. Slott, of the Twenty-second Precinct, under whose command Bowles was, testified to detailing Bowles to work up the case; to Bowles bringing Mrs Brinsmade to the Station-house; [illegible] Baker; witness received orders to keep the lady there till other orders; Bowles said he brought her by order of Baker; that Baker was coming on the next Sunday; and that it was Baker's order that she should be kept without communication with anybody; witness saw Baker, the Superintendent, after the 15th of October; Mr. Kennedy called and left Baker there writing, and came to the Superintendent about Mrs. Brinsmade, and Mr. Kennedy said Baker's letter was writing; witness went to Mr. Kennedy's office; witness went to bring Mrs. Brinsmade down, but when witness got to the Station-house Baker had taken her down; Mr. Baker came about quarter past four, and had an interview with Mrs. Brinsmade; witness came from Mr. Kennedy to see her; witness talked with Baker and asked what he was going to do with the lady? Baker said: "I'll discharge her to-morrow at twelve o'clock;" he said her clothes and everything were in the next house, and she her bonnet, and would be ready to go; [illegible] Baker, of the Twenty-second Precinct, testified: That on the 27th of September he saw Mrs. Brinsmade and Bowles, who arrived at the Station-house at half minutes past six o'clock; Bowles said that he brought the lady on from Washington at the order of Provost-Marshal Baker, and that she was to be allowed no intercourse with any one except at such time as they should hear further; witness also testified to the presence of Baker at the Station-house on the 15th of October; Baker was in with Mrs. Brinsmade about twenty minutes; after he came out Mrs. Brinsmade came out and said that she was to be discharged at nine or twelve o'clock the next day; that Baker had promised to discharge her if she would go to Philadelphia with him; that he was going to take her out riding that afternoon; she got ready and he did not come; she said that she did not wish to go with Baker to Philadelphia unless she was compelled to.

The further hearing of the case was postponed to Friday.

THE LATE ABORTION CASE.

Continuation of Simms, the Alleged Accomplice.

Coroner Kenney made an examination, yesterday afternoon, at the Ninth Precinct Station-house, of Augustus L. Simms, the alleged confederate in the recent murder of Miss Clementina Anderson. The following is the substance of all that he is willing to reveal at present:

Augustus L. Simms, being duly sworn, deth depose and say: I live at No. 7 West Fourth-street; by occupation I am a Painter; I first became acquainted with the deceased about two years ago; I continued the acquaintance for about six months, calling at the house occasionally, with the knowledge of the parents; some little difficulty arose between me and the father at this time, and I discontinued my visits openly for about one year, evading him when he was at home, by request of the daughter; I visited the house more frequently, commencing last June, but still evaded the father for the above reason; this intercourse was continued till Friday, the 24th day of October last; my last visit was made in the evening; deceased first left Friday morning, about the 6th or 7th of July last; at the same time she requested me to procure some pills for the purpose, as she alleged, to produce an abortion; I asked her what that she wanted; she said there were three or four kinds advertised, that Hooper's pills were the best, as she had known of a married woman who had tried them; I got the pills as she requested; she took them, but they had no desirable result; she then said I must get something else, that her folks must not know it; I then asked Dr. Browne what his charges were, and he said he would take the case in hand and have her all right in two weeks at furthest, or perhaps sooner, for the sum of $50; the understanding was that he was to take her into his own house and do all the nursing and have all the trouble; I then said: "I will see the lady and let you know in two or three days;" he said at this time that he had one patient at the house, and that he could not take this lady until the other one was gone, as he never had but one patient at a time. On account of the death of Mr. Anderson's son, nothing more was said by me to Dr. Browne on the subject, for about three or four weeks. On Saturday, the 25th of October, I made Dr. Browne a second call; he told him I had called again concerning the lady that I had previously spoken to him about; he said he had forgotten what I said about it, and I repeated as before; he then said that the price would be $75 instead of $50; that the last patient he had he got $100 for; and that she was only two weeks in the house; I then told him I could only give him the first sum named; to this he at last consented; I then said the lady would be there the same evening by 9 or 10 o'clock; I had made arrangements to meet the lady the evening before, at the foot of Warren-street, about the time the boat left for Newburgh; I met Clementina at about 8 o'clock, in Warren-street, near Broadway; she said she got there early, and had crossed the ferry a few times, and had walked up to meet me; I then told her it was rather early to go, and that we had better go to a hotel till dark; we went to the Girard House; there we remained from Saturday afternoon until Sunday, Nov. 2; I called, knocked at the door, and could not get in; the door was locked, and there was no light; either in the store or house; on Monday I called again, when I saw the Doctor, who told me that the danger was all over, and that I could see Clementina, and make arrangements to take her away on the following Friday or Saturday; on Tuesday I saw the deceased, and she told me she had been very ill with puerperal fever; on Friday, the 7th of November, I called, and was told that Miss Anderson did not wish to see me; on the following Monday I called, and was told that deceased had had a relapse, and that I could not see her; I told him I must see her, and he ordered me out of his store; about eight o'clock, on the following Tuesday evening, I went there again for the purpose of seeing her, when he again ordered me out; I called from time to time, until the 18th or 19th inst.; I was always put off either by the Doctor or his housekeeper, and could not see the deceased until the day she was taken away from Dr. Browne's; the Doctor told me that when I took Clementina away not to bring a carriage around there to his house; I got a carriage, and met the Doctor in Broadway, for the sum of $1, and the driver of the hack drove to within a block of Dr. Browne's house; when I went into the Doctor's office, Clementina was all dressed with the exception of her overshoes, and ready for the journey home; Clementina was then sitting on a sofa; it was her wish that it should be stated that she came from Newburgh; I assisted her into the coach; it was understood that I was not to go home with her, and I was not to be seen in the affair at all; by Clementina's own request I was not to be seen for two or three days; I then went to the Central Hotel, opposite the Girard House, put up there for the night, and staid there the next day, until evening, when I left for Albany.

The above is not an outline of the testimony given by Simms, yesterday and last evening, at the Ninth Precinct Station-house; but it is probable that it is as much as will interest the public. Much of it is entirely unfit for publication. At the conclusion of the examination Simms was committed as a witness in the forthcoming prosecution against Dr. Browne.

See that You are Registered.

To-day, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M., the Board of Registrars of the several Districts, set for the purpose of revising and correcting the list of voters for the coming election. Urge upon all voters, the importance of having their names registered in time, in order to avoid délay in voting on the day of election. Let every one SEE HIMSELF, that his name is registered.

Board of Supervisors.

TAXATION OF UNITED STATES BONDS—AN INQUIRY THEY RESOLVE TO MAKE—THE COUNTY TO SETTLE UP THE HARLEM BRIDGE ACCOUNT.

The Board of Supervisors met at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon—President Fields in the Chair.

The Commissioner of Taxes and Assessments transmitted to the Board an order upon them from the Supreme Court to reduce the tax on the bank books so far as to exempt the United States Stocks held by them. The order is in pursuance of the recent decision of the Court, that these stocks are exempted from tax by law of Congress.

Mr. Fusey was not disposed to acquiesce in the decision of the Court, but was in favor of appealing the case.

Mr. Blake took the same view.

Mr. Davis was satisfied that the chief had been most thoroughly tried by the ablest lawyers and judges in the country, and believed that the plain direction of Congress in the matter must be respected.

Mr. Blake thought the case was of such vast importance, that it should be tested to the fullest extent permissible to the county.

On motion of Mr. Fusey, the matter was referred to the Committee on Annual Taxes, with power to appeal the case and employ additional counsel, and to confer with the Tax Commissioners and the Comptroller.

The following important veto Message and opinion of the Corporation Counsel were received from the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, Nov. 30, 1862.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors:

GENTLEMEN: I return unapproved the accompanying resolution of your honorable body, ordering the payment of certain bills connected with the building of Harlem Bridge, amounting to $6,704 16.

Some of these bills are for the salaries of Commissioners, Engineers and assistants, Superintendent, Property-clerk, Draftsmen, &c., to the amount of $3,073, of which the sum of $674 is for the salary of the three Commissioners appointed by Westchester County.

It is to this last item that I more particularly object, although as to the whole amount of $6,704 16, and other bills that shall hereafter accrue for the construction of this bridge to the amount of at least $75,000, it would seem to me to be eminently proper to insist upon their payment by the County of Westchester.

The cost of building this very expensive bridge, which is for the benefit of Westchester County rather more than New-York, is to be borne by both counties in proportion to the respective assessed valuation. That proportion, as I am informed, is a process of being quickly defined by the Surveyors, by order of the Commissioners, will impose only about one-quarter of the cost upon the County of Westchester. These considerations, with the additional one that, pending the determination of the proportions, Westchester County has been as much bound by the law to provide for the expenditure as the County of New-York, suggest that it would have been just and fair for us to have insisted upon Westchester County providing for one-fourth, or at least one-fifth of the amount. She certainly should have paid her own Commissioners. Instead of this, the City of New-York has paid the entire expenditure for the bridge, amounting thus far to $319,259 34, including even the salaries of the Westchester County Commissioners.

I would respectfully recommend, that on the determination of the exact proportion of the cost to be borne by the respective Counties, we refrain from paying further bills, until the County of Westchester shall have paid her proportion of the cost, by the payment of such bills, or by reimbursement to us of the amount paid over our proportion; and that hereafter, the expenditures for the construction of the bridge be provided for by an order of the Department of the proportion which it is proper we should pay.

I append a copy of the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, sent to me, in answer to inquiries which I made of him, in relation to the above subject.

GEORGE OPDYKE, Mayor.

(COPY OF OPINION.)

LAW DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF COUNSEL TO CORPORATION, CITY OF NEW-YORK, Nov. 14, 1862.

To the Mayor:

SIR: I have examined the law for rebuilding the Harlem Bridge, at the termination of the Third avenue, with reference to your inquiries. (2 Stat. 1857, p. 71; Stat. 1861, p. 463.) How much or what proportion of the whole expense must ultimately be paid by the County of New-York, and how much by the County of Westchester, depends on what portion of the bridge may be within the territorial jurisdiction of the counties respectively. But until the line of jurisdiction is ascertained, the obligation to pay current expenses is alike upon both counties. As to the salaries of the Commissioners, the statutes make no distinction with reference to the counties in which they respectively reside, but both counties are alike obliged to pay all the Commissioners. But as New-York has thus far paid all the expenses, it seems but reasonable that Westchester should now pay a part, and that part may well be the salaries of the two Commissioners who reside in that county. This is, however, a question of discretion, and the practice that has thus far obtained may still be followed, if the New-York authorities deem expedient.

Respectfully yours, GREENE C. BRONSON.

Messrs. PURDY and DAVIS stated that the boundary question was so nearly decided that it was supposed in a short time Westchester County would make a suitable appropriation towards the work of building the bridge, and they had hoped no adverse action by this County would be taken till Westchester County should again take the subject into consideration, especially as Mr. BRONSON had given the opinion that she would ultimately have to pay her quota of the expense.

The message was laid over under the rule.

The Board adjourned till 3½ P. M., Wednesday, Dec. 3.

Complimentary Resolutions to Major-Gen. Banks—Response of Gen. Banks.

The resolutions recently passed by the friends of Gen. BANKS and ordered to be engrossed, were duly presented to the General, in a formal manner, yesterday afternoon, by the Special Committee, Hon. Charles A. Peabody, Charles Gould, Esq., Moses Taylor, Esq., R. H. McCurdy, Esq., and Capt. C. H. Marshall.

Judge PEABODY made the presentation speech, as follows:

GENERAL: The Committee who have heretofore waited on you, have desired us to present to you these resolutions. We had desired, and the citizens of New-York had desired, to have made your acquaintance, and hear your views in public, but the necessities of the case have prevented us; however, we and they unite in regrets that this could not have been so; but they believe that they will hear such a report from you as will prove a benefit to all parties. They believe you have before you a continuation of a career of brilliancy and usefulness; a future continuing undimmed and lustrous, with good works, for the benefit of our common land. They and we believe that you are about to depart on a successful mission, which will be of incalculable value in the putting down of this rebellion. But more than all, we hope again to greet you, on your return, and hear from you at length, when you can consistently refer to the wishes of our citizens, on the great questions of the day. We wish you all the success of which the future is capable, and present you this small token of esteem.

RESPONSE OF GEN. BANKS.

Gen. BANKS said:

I thank you, gentlemen, very cordially for the honor you have conferred upon me and personal wishes. It would have given me great pleasure to have met your fellow-citizens of New-York in some public way. I look upon this City as able in a great degree to settle of herself the destinies of the world, and I should like to have known the men and women who control such power. The reason why I refused to accept your cordial and honored invitation to address them, was on account of my inability at that time to name a day or hour, that I could have depended upon at the time of the election. But I hope hereafter to have the pleasure of meeting them. Whatever may be the fate in store for me, wherever my lot may be cast in the future, I shall remember the honor conferred upon me, in these resolutions, and they will be an incentive to me to ever do that which is for the good and glory of our common country. I therefore tender to you the heartfelt thanks of myself and wife for the courtesies extended us from time to time.

The Committee thereupon retired.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Judge McCunn.

ANTONIO O. BASTON, a genteel Cuban mulatto, 23 years of age, was yesterday tried and convicted of highway robbery, and sentenced to ten years in the State Prison. It appeared from the testimony that prisoner met FERNANDO ESTRADA, a Broadway cigar dealer, in Broome-street, on the evening of the 17th of October last, and requested a little private conversation with him. The parties passed round the corner into Mott-street, when the prisoner drew a dagger and demanded Mr. ESTRADA's money, at the same time telling him that he (the prisoner) had just killed a man. Mr. ESTRADA gave him what change he had, and also his gold watch and chain.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

THE NORTH RIVER FERRIES.—The Jersey City Ferry Company gives gratifying evidence of public spirit, in throwing fresh facilities to the travelling community. It recently established a new ferry, connecting with the foot of Barclay-street, thus avoiding the cutting across the North River which it lays up town with the least possible delay. The new ferry, yesterday morning, was the resort of hundreds of people on the New-Jersey side. The frequency of communication, and the convenience of the transit, were the only complaints was made of the consequent delay. The reconstruction of the slips on the New-York side added to the temporary inconvenience. All such difficulties are now obviated. A new slip has been arranged at the Jersey City side for the Barclay-street boat, and the repairs at the foot of Cortlandt-street are completed. In a few weeks a new and splendid boat will be put in service. The frequency of complaint will be not at rest, and the ferry rank first among the leading lines from the City, in point of speed, promptness and convenience. The Company deserves credit for its enterprise.

TRIP OF GEN. MCCLELLAN TO GRAMMAR SCHOOL NO. 48.—Yesterday morning, Gen. McClellan, accompanied by Mrs. McClellan, visited Grammar School No. 48, situated in Twenty-fourth-street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues. The idea of making the General acquainted with the boys, and when it was announced to the Principal of the School, Mr. Joseph G. Hoffman, it gave just that surprise and he said his pupils he did not think the General would accept the invitation. Nothing daunted, the boys determined upon trying, and were rewarded by an acceptance of the proffered invite. It was agreed that the General would be at the school by 10 A. M., but it was some time after 11 o'clock before he arrived. The scholars welcomed him with cheers and were rewarded by a few words of encouragement and advice. A veteran of the war of 1812 then sang "The Star Spangled Banner," the whole school joining in the chorus. The General then left, declaring himself well pleased with his visit.

THANKSGIVING IN THE HOME OF THE FRIENDLESS.—One of the most pleasing evidences of patriotic feeling at the present time is the interest manifested in the welfare of children left destitute by the war. The Home for the Friendless (No. 68 East Thirty-second-street) has received many of these, and never had an object more dear to us, as at the present time. Sunday, Nov. 30, is the anniversary of the institution, and it will be proper to Thanksgiving Day, from 2 till 5 o'clock, the friends of visitors by their kings and little ones, who, upwards of 1,000 depend on the friends of this Institution for their Thanksgiving dinner.

FUNERAL OF GEO. C. MORGAN.—The funeral of this well-known and highly respected citizen took place yesterday at Trinity Church. Rev. Mr. Dix, Rector of the Church, and Rev. Drs. Higgins, Vinton, Guildy, McVickar and Young, officiating in the place. The remains were interred in St. Luke's Cemetery.

THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY AND ITS GOOD WORK.—A happy company of over 400 dear boys and girls from the Children's Aid Society, left the City yesterday afternoon, under the charge of Mr. E. Fanning. They were bound for homes in the West, and were well fitted up for the journey. The best wishes and the warmest sympathy go with the number of these little benefiaciaries of the Society.

FAIR FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE SOLDIERS.—The young ladies of the Junior Department of the Twelfth-street Public School, as will be seen by notice in [illegible] are about to hold a Fair at the Cooper Institute for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers. The Fair will commence on Friday next and continue two days.

VILLAINOUS THEFT.—Miss MARY BROWN, of No. 24 Waite-street, having made up two dozen shirts for an establishment in Broadway, employed Alfonso Dixon, a colored man, to take them to the owners. She started on its errand, with the intent of keeping a close watch upon Alfonso, but while in Canal-street he suddenly disappeared with the shirts, and Miss Brown was unable to find him. Dixon was subsequently arrested by Officer Hosmer, of the Fifth Ward, and confessed that he had sold the shirts to a stranger whom he met in the street. Dixon was arraigned before Justice Dowling, and committed to the Tombs for trial. The owners of the shirts held Miss Brown accountable for them, and the loss is one she is quite unable to bear, pretending but little to expect what she earns with her needle.

GEN. MEAGHER'S IRISH BRIGADE.—The officers of the Irish Brigade, now in this City, are respectfully requested to meet at the Band recruiting office, 596 Broadway, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, on important business.

LECTURES TO WOMEN.—Mrs. FANNIE FERRIER, the well-known practical chemist and charming lecturer, will deliver a course of two lectures to women, at the Cooper Institute, beginning on the first Wednesday in December, at 2 o'clock P. M. The course will be upon the "Laws of Health and Human Development."

RECORD BOARD.

[illegible]

TUESDAY, Nov. 25—P. M.

The price of Gold fell off to-day to 129¼@129⅝ ▼ cent., as against 130¼@130½ yesterday afternoon. The orders to sell early in the day were quite heavy, and were said to come from one of the neighboring cities, perhaps Baltimore. The fact that the sales were eagerly pressed at 130@129¾ ▼ cent. at the First Board of the Stock Exchange, on out of town orders, induced other parties on the spot to sell still lower, after the Adjournment, on the Street, and before the Second Board convened the price had touched 129¼ ▼ cent. The United States Custom-house Notes and Bills on London were even more sensitive than Gold, and some cheap sales of Merchant Bills, with shipping documents attached, were made at 140½@141½, and the rate for standard Bankers fell to 142 ▼ cent., as against 144½@145 yesterday.

The price of Money to the Stock Brokers was somewhat firmer than yesterday, at 6@7 ▼ cent., according to the class of collateral, with more doing at the outside rate than yesterday. The payments into the Sub-Treasury on account of the recent Loan are now over, and the Assistant Treasurer will to-morrow pay off the 15 day advances made by the Associated Banks. The following is the comparative statement of the Exports (exclusive of Specie) from the port of New-York to Foreign ports for the week ending Nov. 25, and since Jan. 1:

	1862.	1861.	1860.	1859.
For the week	$2,403,170	$2,118,142	$3,041	$3,041,[illegible]
Prev. reported	98,144,862	119,867,[illegible]	130,[illegible]	130,[illegible]
Since Jan. 1	$90,548,032	$123,987,[illegible]	$133,[illegible]	[illegible]

The Stock Market was not so high as on Monday afternoon, on part of the Railway Shares, the difference against Erie being about ¼ ▼ cent. and against some of the Westerns ¼@½ ▼ cent. The Harlems and all the Michigan Stocks were firm at the first Board and steady at the second. The Government Securities continue steady, except the one-year Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness, which sold this afternoon at 97⅞ ▼ cent. The Railway Bonds about the same, on the average of Sales, as yesterday.

Late in the afternoon, the whole Market lapsed into extreme dullness, and the bidding was low and spiritless on nearly all the Railways. The following are about the latest figures at 4½ o'clock.

The Detroit Free Press has the following explanatory article on the condition of the State Debt of Michigan, which is pertinent to the new Loan in substitution of a maturing one, to be awarded at the office of Messrs. WHITEHOUSE, SON & MORRISON, in this City, on Monday next:

"We would call the attention of financial men to the notice of Hon. Jesse Owen, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for bids for:

$266,000 of 7 ▼ cent. 5-year Bonds.
$222,000 of 6 ▼ cent. 10-year Bonds.
$150,000 of 6 ▼ cent. 15-year Bonds.
$214,000 of 6 ▼ cent. 20-year Bonds.

[illegible]

Total $8,979,651 [illegible]

Since that time the State has commenced redeeming the war debt, which is redeemable at the pleasure of the State. About $40,000 of this has already been paid. At the last regular session of the Legislature, the 6 ▼ cent. was substituted in place of the old 7 ▼ cent. for such persons as desired to exchange, and the new issue, which is to pay the balance of the old 7 ▼ cent. bonds, will call the new 6 ▼ cent. from the old stock. Heretofore the loan has not been have already been exchanged and the present proceeds are for the sale of the balance. Hence the fact that some are seven per cent., and some six per cent. bonds. Some run for five, some ten, some fifteen and some twenty years.

We need not remark to those having money to invest that we consider the bonds of the State of Michigan the very best security possible. If any one doubted this it would amply repay them to refer to the following table of the revenues of the State:

	State Tax.	Total.
1861	8 mills per dollar	$89,140 62
1862	3 55-100 mills per dollar	195,884 71
1863	2 7-10 mills per dollar	456,160 50

There is no probability of our State debt being increased. On the contrary, it is now certain that with this revenue the whole of the war debt will be paid in the next two years, leaving our actual debt to the Government at the close of the war less than $2,000,000. This is nothing for a State which had in 1860 over 750,000 inhabitants, and whose real estate was valued at $[illegible]. The bonds now offered seem to command a large premium in the market, and we have no doubt they will. If those who have money to invest will examine into the security. The finances of the State have been managed with very great ability by our present State Treasurer, and so long as he remains the department of our State Government, there need be no fear that the credit of the State will ever be suffered to depreciate.

West in California.

At the second annual meeting of the California Wool Growers' Association, held in San Francisco on the 24 of October, the Secretary read a report which contains some information respecting the raising of wool in the Golden State. In 1861 the clip of California wool was 4,414,000 lbs.; this year it will not be proportionally high. This is due to a series of severe storms during last Winter, by which a great number of sheep and lambs were lost. Entire flocks were swept away in some places by the great floods in the rivers. The receipts of wool at San Francisco, since Jan. 1, were 4,502,640 lbs., of which 3,606,375 lbs. were exported. The total product of wool in 1862 is estimated at 5,119,640 lbs. The average annual increase of wool for five years past has been 46 per cent.; by this ratio of increase, the clip this year would have been 6,440,000 lbs. The finest wool produced was from a flock of imported Australian merinos.

At the San Joaquin Valley Fair, held in September, the President, in his address, said:

"We have 1,200,000 sheep, which will average, annually, a fleece of 2½ lbs. This would place the gross production of this article at 4,200,000 lbs., which, at the lowest price (12 cents) paid for wool in large quantities, would reach $504,000, a handsome figure of $500,000; at 25 cents a pound, the figure would be $1,344,000. Take half the difference and we have $918,000. I think it not meets to set down the amount realized from the sale of wool at a million of dollars, and if that single branch of our rural economy yields us that amount now, what, I ask, may we calculate upon as being in store for us in years to come? In comparison with our resources and facilities for wool growing, that branch of industry is still in its infancy."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch received last night from the Army of the Potomac informs us that there is nothing of importance to communicate.

A party of rebel cavalry, numbering about sixty, entered Poolesville, Md., at daylight yesterday morning and seized the two Government telegraph operators stationed there, finding them in bed. The operators were subsequently paroled, and allowed to telegraph their mishaps to Washington. We do not learn that the rebels did any further damage.

On the 19th inst., a force of 4,500 men, 1,000 of which were cavalry, left Suffolk and proceeded about thirty miles to the Blackwater River. The Massachusetts Sixth formed part of the expedition. Owing to a want of the material to secure rivers, the entire design of the expedition was not carried out, but important information was obtained. Col. Doran, of the New-York Mounted Rifles, made a dash upon the rebels at Franklin, dispersed them, captured a number of arms, rifles, &c., &c., obtained from their camps letters containing important information, and secured several prisoners, with a loss of only five men wounded, one of whom is since dead. Exciting scenes will probably take place in this region, ere many weeks have elapsed.

The steamship Roanoke arrived at this port, last night from New-Orleans on the 16th inst. The intelligence she brings is of a highly important character. A series of orders had recently been issued by Gen. BUTLER, which serve as additional proof that no difficulty can arise in his Department which he is not able to grasp. The property within the District recently possessed by our enemy under Gen. MANSFIELD, to be known as the Sequestrated District, is declared sequestered, and all sales or transfers of it are forbidden. This District comprises all the territory of Louisiana lying west of the Mississippi, excepting the parishes of Plaquemine and Jefferson. A Commission is appointed to take possession of the District, and the sugar plantations to be worked by them, where they are not worked by their owners, and negro or white labor may be employed at discretion. All property belonging or claimed pertinent is to be taken under and sold for the benefit of the Government, under the provisions of the Confiscation Act. Another order suppresses distilleries and other manufactories of strong drink. Another one establishes that any officer found drinking intoxicating liquors in any public drinking-place will be recommended to the President for dismissal from the service. Another one suppresses the newspaper known as the National Advocate, for an improper publication. Still another prohibits the arrest of any slave unless the person arresting knows that such slave is owned by a loyal citizen. Gen. SHEPLEY, as Military Governor, of the State has also issued two important orders. One directs an election of two members of Congress from the First and Second Congressional Districts of the State. The election is appointed for the 24 of December, and is to fill vacancies in the Thirty-seventh Congress. The other exempts household goods from seizure to the amount of $300. Our correspondent's letter also contains an extraordinary development relative to the doings of Hon. REVERDY JOHNSON in New-Orleans. It appears that the money seized by Gen. BUTLER at the French Consul's, and which was returned at the direction of JOHNSON, actually belonged to citizens of New-Orleans, and was taken charge of by the Consul to pay for cloth in Havana, awaiting to run the blockade, to be used by the Confederate Government; and that the money, $486,000, has been actually sent from New-Orleans to Havana, within a short period, on board the Spanish war steamer Blanco de Garay. The Delta of the 15th inst. contains a narrative of the adventures of a member of the Eighth Vermont Regiment, taken prisoner in September last, while on detached duty. Seven of them, having been enlisted in New-Orleans, were shot by the rebels.

The correspondent of the Boston Traveller, writing from on board the transport Baltic, in Hampton Roads, under date of Nov. 20, states that that vessel is under orders to sail on or before Monday. He says: "The steamers are taking on board stores and coal. The expedition is to be a large one, commanded either by BANKS or BUTLER. The Baltic, as I understand, is acting as the flag-ship. Fortress Monroe will be the starting point, and in less than a week our expedition will be under way. Our regiment was paid off on Tuesday. Uncle Sam squaring accountants to Nov. 1. Bunks have been put up in the steamers to accommodate hog fashion, 12,000 men."

The St. Louis Republican, of Saturday, says a movement was to have been made on Sunday or Monday last, from Helena, by a military force under Gen. HOVEY, of Indiana, against the "Post of Arkansas," as it used to be called; and important results were expected.

The St. Louis Republican of Nov. 22, has this paragraph: "The Legislature of Arkansas assembled at Little Rock in the early part of this month. Gov. RECTOR, for some time a refugee from the capital, was present, and delivered his message, and then resigned his post. Mr. FLETCHER, President of the Senate, thereby became acting Governor, Col. FLANNIGAN, who had beaten Gov. RECTOR in the race for that office, being in the army, and not having made his appearance. For some time a very animated contest was kept up for the position of Senator of the Confederate States, in place of B. C. JOHNSON, who was opposed by Mr. GARLAND. JOHNSON was elected. In a speech delivered by him he is said to have confessed that he had assisted in destroying the best Government that ever existed, but that he had joined his destiny with the South, and would abide the result. For months past there has been no time when the Federal troops might not have taken possession of Little Rock, the chief resource of Hindman, being merely dependent on the property and in fighting there was a very large Union element ready to assist the efforts of the Federal troops, and to recover power. The movements now making may bring about the same result; but it could have been better done before the country had been devastated by hostile armies."

The Nashville Union of Thursday last says that a considerable force of rebel guerrillas have made their appearance at Hardinge, three miles that and a half from the city; and there are also guerrillas at Franklin.

Gen. HOVEY has been assigned to the command of the Army of the Southwest, in the absence of Gen. SCHOFIELD, who is on his return to St. Louis, on sick leave.

The East Tennessee regiments that fought and suffered under Gen. MORGAN at Cumberland Gap and in the retreat, have been ordered to join Gen. ROSECRANS, whose eyes are directed toward the old home for which their hearts are yearning. The Third and Sixth are already at Nashville; the Fifth, Col. SHEALY, is now in Louisville, in Kentucky; the Fourth is at Cincinnati, and the First and Second are between Vallipolis and Louisville.

The Savannah (Ga.) papers, of the 20th, say that "two Abolition gunboats and one mortar-boat attacked Fort McAllister, at Genieus' Point, on Ogeeche River, yesterday morning. After a fierce engagement the enemy retired. The works are still in perfect order. Our loss was three wounded."

Ex-President BUCHANAN, in the National Intelligencer of yesterday, closes the controversy between Gen. SCOTT and himself, and claims that he has already furnished clear and distinct responses to all his allegations. Gen. SCOTT, however, has extended the topics, and now, for the first time, and in a sarcastic and unkindly spirit, refers to the alleged stealing of public arms by Secretary FLOYD, and their transportation to the South in anticipation of the rebellion. The most conclusive answer to this allegation is, Mr. BUCHANAN remarks, that notwithstanding the boasting of Mr. FLOYD at Richmond, evidently with the view of conciliating his allies there, no public arms were ever stolen, and had Gen. SCOTT reflected for a moment he would not have fallen into this blunder.

GENERAL NEWS.

Some additional advices from Mexico are received by way of Havana, at which port the Roanoke touched on her way from New-Orleans. Gen. FOREY was still at Orizaba. Jalapa was in possession of the French, the place having been surrendered without a show of resistance.

The further hearing of the testimony in the case of Mrs. BRINKERHOFF's arrest, and the charges against Superintendent KENNEDY based thereon, was continued yesterday. Provost-Marshal DAVIES and a number of police officers were sworn and testified. A vast amount of documentary and verbal evidence was submitted, going to show that Provost-Marshal BAKER, of Washington, and Officer BOWLES, had, in various ways, by act, by letter and by word admitted that Mrs. BRINKERHOFF was arrested and detained solely by order of Provost-Marshal BAKER, and that Mr. KENNEDY had always repudiated any responsibility in the matter, beyond ordering that the lady should be watched and reported to the Provost-Marshal of the District of Columbia.

The Board of Supervisors met at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The decision of the Supreme Court, with an order to exempt from taxation the United States Stocks held by the banks, was referred, with power to appeal the question. The Mayor vetoed the last batch of Harlem Bridge bills, on the ground that Westchester County has so far failed to constitute her quota of the expense of the work, or at least to pay the salaries of her Commissioners. The Board adjourned to 3 o'clock P. M. of Wednesday, Dec. 3.

Gen. JAMES H. LANE arrived in St. Louis, Nov. 20, en route to Washington.

The Philadelphia Presbyterian says: "We learn from the South that Rev. Dr. PALMER is now residing in Columbia, South Carolina, where he is engaged temporarily filling the Professorship in the Theological Seminary, made vacant by the death of Rev. Dr. THORNWELL. Rev. Dr. LEYBURN, formerly of Philadelphia, is residing at Athens, Georgia, and is there discharging his duties as Secretary of the Committee of Domestic Missions. Rev. JAMES MCNEILL, formerly Secretary of the American Bible Society, has left his post as editor of the North Carolina Presbyterian for a time, and entered the army. Rev. Dr. DABNEY, Professor in the Union Theological Seminary, is also in the Southern army, and is acting as an Aid to Gen. JACKSON. We have seen an order issued by Gen. JACKSON, signed 'R. L. DABNEY, Assistant Adjutant-General.'"

Eight hundred and fifty kegs of powder, found on the prize steamer Caroline, now at Philadelphia, have been removed and placed in the United States Arsenal.

Gov. PHILLIPS, of Arkansas, arrived in St. Louis on Friday last. He is suffering from disease contracted at Helena, while in the discharge of his duties.

Twenty of the drafted men of Montour County, Penn., absolutely refuse to submit to the draft, and have so far defied the efforts of the Marshal to induce them to yield to the law.

The Washington Chronicle says there are strong grounds for believing that the reason why the Alabama permitted the Tonawanda to continue on her voyage to Europe, on giving a bond of $60,000 as ransom, was, that the commanders of the pirate and the merchantman had known each other as Free Masons. When Capt. JULIUS reminded SEMMES of this, he let the vessel go ransomed by the bond, instead of plundering and burning it.

In the Court of Sessions yesterday, ANTONIO O. EASTON, a Cuban mulatto, was convicted of highway robbery, and sentenced to ten years in the State Prison.

Justice ROSWORTH, at trial term of the Superior Court yesterday, dismissed a complaint for libel brought against the proprietors of the Evening Express, on the ground that the body of a report being fair, and fully explaining the caption thereof, an action could not be maintained for words inserted alone in such caption.

The Stock Market was a fraction lower on the Railway shares, yesterday, and steady on Governments. The price of Gold fell off to 129¼@¼, and Exchange and United States Custom-house Notes followed down to 145 for Bills on London and 128 for Custom-house Notes.

The trade in Breadstuffs yesterday was restricted, and prices of the principal kinds were cheaper. Provisions were in demand at unaltered rates. A fair inquiry prevailed for Rio Coffee, Foreign Liquors, Fruit, Hay, Hops, Leather, Petroleum, Spices, Whisky, Black Teas, Tobacco and Wool, which were generally very firm. Cotton was dull and nominal. Sugars, Rice, Molasses, Hemp, Lead, Iron, Spelter, Tallow and Whalebone were inactive. The Freight engagements were moderate.

The Live Stock markets are not so fully supplied with animals as during the past few weeks; but this deficiency is made up by free arrivals of dead sheep and hogs. Poultry is quite plenty just now, for Thanksgiving, thus lessening the demand for meats. Beeves number 5,461, but so many of them were little heifers and poor cows, that 3,000 respectable bullocks would fully equal the present offerings. Good cattle, such as the majority of butchers wanted this week, were very scarce, and a second, or even a third quality had to be substituted. First-class bullocks readily brought 8¾c.@9c. ℔ ℔., dressed weight, and buyers would gladly have taken many more of this kind than were offered at these rates. Taken as a whole, the cattle were of a mean order this week—they were largely made up of the remnants of wide pasture grounds in this State, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan, and some were sold at the low prices of 4c.@5c. per pound, net weight. None were left over.... Sheep and lambs are not as plenty as butchers could wish. They have advanced near 25c. per head during the past week. Good sheep are now worth 5c.@5½c. per pound for extra fat stock, when selected, 5½c.... Live hogs are selling quick, even if poor, which has not been the case for several weeks past. Fat corn-fed hogs are worth 4¾c.@5¼c. Medium hogs sell at 4½c.@4¾c.

Have we lost the chance to kill this rebellion or not? If we do, why this hesitating at the extremities? Why this shilly-shallying trifling of the arms? Why this mere pinching at the vitals? Why don't we drive our lance, with might and main, straight into the heart of the monster? Will it be said it has no heart? It has. A heart is an essential of all life, whether animal or civil. Every organization—the body politic as well as any other—must have its central seat of vitality and energy. Richmond is the heart of the Confederacy. Penetrate it, and the whole power of the rebellion reels and collapses. Will it be said we have not genuine strong enough? We have. With nearly a million of men now under arms, we can, if necessary, devote half of that force to this object. Such an army, if well directed, could overthrow any place on this Continent.

Our Government and people have too long deluded themselves with the notion that the conquest of the Port Royals, and the Newberns, and the Pensacolas, and the New-Orleans, and the Galvestons of the Confederacy, are so many advances toward its final annihilation. So indeed they would be, if we had years before us, through which to carry on the same piecemeal style of operation. But we have not years. The limits of our financial resources, and the limits, too, of foreign forbearance, give us but months. It is authentically and morally certain that unless we bring this rebellion to the dust soon, we shall be disabled from doing it at all. Our conduct has, in truth, been much like that of a besieging army, which should content itself with operating at its leisure upon the outposts, leaving the main citadel unharmed, when it was known that the garrison had not long to hold out to be effectually relieved. These outer successes, which have pleased us so much, ought really to count for little or nothing, inasmuch as such a rate of progress for another eighteen months must inevitably ruin us.

The idea, then, of a new expedition of any sort or character, ought not for a moment to be entertained, until Richmond is beset with armies of a magnitude that should make its quick surrender sure. Concentration upon Richmond should be our order of the day. The rebels have already made it theirs. They full well understand its tremendous importance to themselves. Their armies, with all the rapidity possible, are gathering for the protection of their capital. A hundred and fifty thousand of the best bayonets of the Confederacy will be bristling in that defence before December opens. Who knows if BURNSIDE has an equal force? Even if he has, can our Government intend to set him against the enemy on equal terms? Is our immense superiority in military numbers to be henceforth profitless, as it has been heretofore? Must we, the invaders, still meet the enemy in their chosen positions with only half our proper strength? We say, concentrate. Reinforce. Be not content with simply pitting an upper against a nether millstone. The rebellion cannot be so crushed. It is the preponderance of the avalanche we look for. It is that alone which can make the short work the emergency demands. We have the material, and we must make the most of it.

The difficulty lies in effectively handling such an immense single body. We care not—concentration is still the word. Bring great forces to bear upon Richmond on the South. Massés in many directions, if need be. This matters comparatively little if so be that the rebel Capital is still the centre toward which every movement converges. If it end in the literal investment of Richmond, so much the better. The siege, with all our prodigious superiority in heavy guns, could not be long, at longest; and the result would be a surrender. We should thereby bag an army—an achievement often attempted in this war, but seldom realized. Probably the entire defending force would pass into our hands, and the best portion of all the Confederate troops be thus put, on the instant, hors du combat. The capture of Richmond at all must be fatal to the rebellion; but the fate would be the more immediate if with it we can destroy the army that defends it.

Let us then strike with our utmost force upon the rebel Capital, as NAPOLEON did upon Moscow, and the Allies upon Paris. Not a soldier should be moved in a different direction, until the numbers here are mighty enough to put this supreme, this vital success, beyond all contingency. This third attempt will, in all human probability, be the last one. At least the foreign Powers will consider it the sovereign test. Woe to the Republic if it fails, and a triple woe to the Administration through whose short-coming such failure can alone come, if it come at all.

FRENCH EXPERIENCE.—That the Emperor of the French is a ruler of very large capacity will be generally admitted; but the most capable of men have often been known to overtask themselves, and break down from undertaking too much. The first NAPOLEON is a case in point. He was quite competent to handle Austria alone, or any single Power of Europe, besides keeping himself firmly on the usurped throne of France. But when it came to regulating all Europe combined, the undertaking proved too onerous, and the greatest ruler of his age was crushed on the field of Waterloo.

Louis NAPOLEON, "for a man of destiny," has been singularly sagacious in avoiding the errors of his fatalist uncle. He has wielded with matchless policy the sceptre handed him by Fate. His success has been found hitherto in a rigid attention to the material wants of the people he rules over, and a careful avoidance of any exhibition of the ambitious designs which were supposed to be the heritage of the Bonaparte dynasty.

But it is a question now beginning to be agitated, whether Louis NAPOLEON has not outlived his strength—whether age or infirmity has not undermined his wisdom, and left him an exhausted monarch, to be numbered with the past. Forward the young, if they like it. He has in his time taken great, and bold, and even committed unpardonable blunders. His first error, was his recognition in entire military panoplied pomp of Rome, by which he quelled a nation of twenty millions of people his enemy. His second was his undertaking to regulate the affairs of Mexico, whereby he has got a foreign war on his hands. His third, and most recent, is his endeavor to unite the Powers of Europe in a movement for intervention in the American rebellion.

In Italy and Mexico, Louis NAPOLEON is now doing penance for neglecting to mind his own affairs. If he wishes to add to his already heavy load enough to crush him utterly, he has only to persevere, and attempt to take the United States under his tutelage, as he now has Italy and Mexico. The First NAPOLEON never had such an impossible job on his hands.

The Proposed Relief for the Suffering English Operatives.

On the 8th of the current month, in an article on "Our Friends in England," we gave some facts concerning the want and distress that prevails to such a fearful extent in the cotton manufacturing districts of England, and we suggested that it would be a humane and generous thing for the American people—who, notwithstanding the fact that they are waging the greatest war of modern times, are yet blessed with overflowing garners and storehouses filled with plenty—to send to their famishing brethren across the ocean a contribution from their abundance, as a proof and earnest of their sympathy with them in their day of misfortune. Whether it be a friend or a foe who is in distress, we are equally commanded by the Divine Word to go to his relief when it is in our power to do so; but we mentioned the noteworthy fact that about the only exhibitions of friendship for our Union and our cause which had come from Great Britain had been the utterances of these operatives and workingmen of Lancashire, now reduced to such terrible straits. If possible, this only made it the more imperative that we should signalize our appreciation of their fraternal feeling.

Since our suggestion was made, the idea has been very widely taken up and approved of. The Press of this City and of the other large cities of the East and West, as well as the local country Press, have expressed themselves in terms of commendation upon it. Various public bodies and societies have warmly seconded the proposition. The Chamber of Commerce has had the subject before it. Influential clergymen have brought it before their churches. Large offers to contribute have been made in various quarters. And there is a general feeling in the community—at least among all those who have given the subject any attention—that the thing is not only feasible, but that it is a duty, as it would be an honor and a lasting benefit, that it be done.

We give this morning, on another page, fuller and later details concerning the distress prevailing in the cotton manufacturing districts of England, and particularly in Lancashire, the great centre of the trade. We have had it carefully compiled from a mass of local reports, documents, appeals and newspaper articles brought by the latest mails. The exhibit is a fearful one to contemplate, and, as we hope it will be scanned by every reader, we need not recapitulate any of its details here. We have not given any of the harrowing cases of individual suffering which have fallen under our eye, preferring that every one should, from the vast aggregate of want and woe, picture to himself the innumerable ghastly details of which it must be composed. The mere fact that in Lancashire alone there are over a quarter of a million of souls now sustained in life from day to day by the precarious gifts of charity, and that the best authorities state that when Winter fairly sets in the aggregate will swell to at least six hundred thousand men, women and children, is enough. No wonder that the Winter is looked forward to with unutterable dread. To hunger has already been added fever and disease, and famine and disease will then be aggravated by cold. There is not the slightest prospect of a respite of suffering during the Winter; for in no event, whether cotton be scarce or plenty, whether the American war go on or come to an end, will the mills be set a-going, and the operatives find comfort in work. They must remain idle during these dismal months; they must suffer; they must be fed by the hand of charity, or starve.

Immense efforts are, of course, being made in Great Britain for their relief. The mill-owners and manufacturers are assessing themselves heavily for the support of the operatives; the aristocracy are acting with a noble munificence; the churches are foremost in the work of charity; and every class and interest in society is doing what it can to lessen the distress. The British colonies are aiding their mother land; the young province of Australia alone has contributed over half a million of dollars; and from the cities of Canada respectable gifts have been sent. But all is insufficient—the evil grows tenfold more rapidly than the means of relief.

We have said that the idea of a contribution from this country had met with a hospitable reception. It would be impossible, of course, to send money, owing to the high rates of exchange; but the idea was to load a ship with supplies, which might be easily collected from the mercantile classes of this and other cities, and send it over, as was done in the case of Ireland, in 1848. A "Buffalo corn man" has already offered, through Mr. SOLON ROBINSON, to give five hundred bushels of corn, as a beginning; and he asks that twenty thousand bushels be collected for the purpose. We think that, by proper effort, a far larger amount might be got before Christmas. New-York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and Cincinnati would, we believe, give twenty thousand bushels apiece, and the other cities of the country would double the contribution.

The one thing now needed to bring into shape the various efforts and offers of individuals, in that some public body take the matter in charge and put it through. We perceive of national, public influence have yet taken practical hold of the question. The proper body to act in the case in this City, would be the Corn Exchange, or the Chamber of Commerce. The latter-named Association has already had it under discussion; but we have not heard that they have yet gone any further than that. We urge them to immediate action. And, if they are still dilatory, we suggest whether it would not be advisable for the industrial and generous persons who have proffered contributions to meet and appoint a Committee of citizens to collect donations from the mercantile classes of the City. To-morrow is Thanksgiving day, and we understand that in several of the churches contributions for Lancashire will be taken up. It would be well if there were a general fund to which those gifts could be at once sent. We hope that no further time will be lost, lest it be too late to relieve many of those who are even now ready to perish.

Irregular War by Jeff. Davis.

It would seem that desperation is seizing upon the soul of JEFF. DAVIS, and driving him to acts that can never be justified by the rules of war. Some months ago, the guerrillas of Marion County, Missouri—(the scene, we may remark, of more bridge-burning and cold-blooded murdering than elsewhere occurred in blood-stained Missouri)—kidnapped as estimable Union citizen of Palmyra, the county seat, and secreted him so that his friends could get no trace of him. It is believed he was murdered. Gen. MCNEIL, of the Missouri State Militia, commanding in the District, caught several of the guerrillas of the county, and held them as hostages for the safe return of the Union citizen, ordering that if the body of the latter were not produced within a given time, the guerrillas held as hostages should be shot. The kidnapped man was not restored, and the penalty was enforced.

JEFF. DAVIS has now directed Gen. HOLMES, commanding in Arkansas, to demand of Gen. CURTIS the immediate surrender of Gen. MCNEIL to the Confederate authorities to be punished for this "outrage." And in case the demand is not complied with, Gen. HOLMES is ordered to choose from the next batch of National prisoners that shall fall into his hands, ten officers, who are to be shot in retaliation for the lives of the men shot by order of Gen. MCNEIL.

It further appears by the latest advice from New-Orleans, that on a recent occasion when a portion of three companies of the Eighth Vermont Regiment of volunteers were captured by the rebels in the interior of Louisiana, seven of the number were shot by the rebel officers, "on the ground that they had been enlisted in New-Orleans." By what rule the enlistment of men in New-Orleans, a city that JEFF. DAVIS has not for nearly a year exercised any authority over, dooms them to be shot, is beyond our power to explain; and we trust that our Government will authorize Gen. BUTLER to make a note of the transaction in his future dealings with the rebel officers in Louisiana.

With reference to the threatened retaliation on Gen. MCNEIL, of Missouri, for his punishment of guerrillas, or upon a sufficient number of Union prisoners to represent him, the case seems no less plain against the Confederate authorities. Guerrillas and bridge-burners in the Union interest, in East Tennessee and elsewhere, have been, invariably and incontinently, not shot, but hung, by the rebels, whenever they could lay hands on them. They have set an example of zealous and implacable hostility to these irregular partisans. Their Congress has distinctly refused to recognize them as a part of the rebel force. Yet JEFF. DAVIS now essays to take them under his wing, not in the Seceded States only, but far up in Missouri, where he has not now, and has not had for a year, a military force of the slightest strength or significance to justify the pretext of the pendency of legitimate hostilities. For all these things, let the rebel authorities be quickly brought to judgment.

CONGRESSMEN FROM LOUISIANA.—General GEORGE F. SHEPLEY, Military Governor of Louisiana, has issued a proclamation ordering an election in the First and Second Congressional Districts of that State, for Representatives in the present (twenty-seventh) Congress of the United States. At the time the present Congress was elected, Louisiana was in rebel hands and no members were chosen—the last representative of that State being the gallant BOULIGNY, who refused to secede with the previous delegation. The State was, therefore, unrepresented last session, and will be unrepresented the ensuing session until about Christmas, when the members to be chosen under Gen. SHEPLEY's proclamation may be expected to be present. The day fixed for the election is December 2.

Gov. SHEPLEY bases the propriety of the election he has ordered on the fact that "a very large majority of the citizens of the First and Second Congressional Districts of the State, by taking the oath of allegiance, have given evidence of their loyalty and obedience to the Constitution and laws of the United States." And among the objects to be gained by the election of a representation in Congress, Gov. SHEPLEY enumerates the exemption that will thereby be obtained from the effects of the President's Emancipation proclamation—"enabling them," [the citizens,] he says, "to avail themselves of the benefits secured by the proclamation of the President of the United States to the people of any State or part of a State who shall, on the first day of January next, be, in good faith, represented in the Congress of the United States."

It is a matter of gratification that the first commercial city of the South, and so recently the second commercial city of the Union, is to be so soon represented again in the Con-

THE AUTOMATON REGIMENT, OR
INFANTRY SOLDIERS' PRACTICAL INSTRUCTOR,
FOR ALL
REGIMENTAL MOVEMENTS IN THE FIELD.
By G. DOUGLAS BRENTON, late U. S. Army.

The "Automaton Regiment" is simply a collection of blocks and counters, so arranged and designated by a carefully considered nomenclature of colors, that it supplies the student with a perfect miniature regiment, in which the position in the battalion of each company, and of every officer and man in each division, company, platoon and section, is clearly indicated. It enables the studious soldier with the means whereby he can convert his "tactics" and at the same time join practice to theory by maneuvering a mimic regiment.

FIREMEN AROUSE AND RESPOND TO THE CALL.

THE NEW-YORK OBSERVER,
IS A
RELIGIOUS, LITERARY AND FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
Published on a large sheet, and is in every respect
TWO DISTINCT PAPERS.

In Religion it is free from sectarianism, and gives a full, fair and impartial report every week of all matters of general interest
IN ALL THE DENOMINATIONS.

In Politics it is entirely free from party relations or influence, discussing great principles with freedom and candor, and giving the fullest and latest intelligence of all the movements of the day.
IT SUPPORTS THE GOVERNMENT
WITH VIGOR, FIDELITY AND ZEAL,
In its efforts to CRUSH THE REBELLION
and restore the Union and preserve the Constitution. It continues with fearless whatever measures may be adopted to the accomplishment of these ends; but its steady purpose, from the beginning of the war, has been, and will be, to uphold the hands and strengthen the heart of the Government, while it puts forth its energies to protest us against the most unholy rebellion that ever disturbed the peace of any country.

The NEW-YORK OBSERVER is the most complete family newspaper
IN THE WORLD.
In the variety of its Departments.
In the fullness of its information.
In the extent of its Correspondence.
In the number of minds enlisted in its Editorial and other columns.
In the amount of money expended in procuring materials to enrich and adorn its pages.
In the healthful, religious, conservative, genial tone that pervades the paper.
In its course of sensible, biographical, poetry, science, art, and general literature, it will strive to exceed every other weekly newspaper.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS.

The Proprietors of the New-York Observer offer the following valuable premiums for
NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

IN ALL CASES, the NEW SUBSCRIBERS must be those who have not in their own or others' names taken the paper during the past year.

TO MINISTERS AND OTHERS.

The Annals of the American Pulpit, by Rev. William B. Sprague, D. D., are comprised in seven large octavo volumes, viz.:

Congregational	1 vols.
Presbyterian	2
Methodist	1
Episcopal	1
Baptist	1

They contain the biography of more than a thousand ministers, and a history of each denomination, with a statement of its doctrinal views, making a complete library of religious biography and history. The lives of these ministers are interspersed with innumerable anecdotes and incidents, and illustrated by letters from distinguished statesmen and clergymen, rendering the volumes an inexhaustible source of instruction and entertainment.

The published price for the seven volumes is $16 50. We will furnish the whole set to the order of any person who will send us twenty new subscribers with the payment for one year, or any two volumes for four new subscribers, or any one volume for two new subscribers. In all cases the money ($2 50 for each subscriber) must be paid in advance.

TO FARMERS AND OTHERS.

We will furnish the whole set of the following works to any one who will send us fifteen new subscribers—with payment of $2 50 in advance on each for one year—viz.:

American Farmer's Encyclopedia	$4 00
Allen's (R. L.) American Farm-Book	1 50
Barry's Fruit Garden	1 50
Boussingault's Rural Economy	1 25
Bridgeman's Young Gardener's Assistant	1 50
Buist's American Flower Garden Directory	1 25
Comprehensive Farm Record	2 00
Dadd's Modern Horse Doctor	1 00
Dadd's American Cattle Doctor	1 00
Dana's Muck Manual	1 00
French's Farm Drainage	1 00
Garlick's Fish Culture	1 00
Herbert's Hints to Horsekeepers	1 50
Fleming on Open Air Grape Culture, &c	1 00
Warder's Hedges and Evergreens	1 00

To any one sending us ten new subscribers, and advance payment for each, one year, we will send the Farmer's Encyclopedia, Farm Record, and any five other books on the list, or the entire list, except the Encyclopedia and Record.

For five new subscribers, with payment in advance, we will send the Farmer's Encyclopedia and Farm Record, or any other five books on the list.

For four new subscribers and payment, the Encyclopedia and any book less than $2.

For three new subscribers, the Farm Record and any $1 book.

For two new subscribers, any two books in the list costing less than $2 each. And for one new subscriber, any book costing less than $2 on the list.

These books will be sent by mail or express, at the option or expense of the subscribers.

Every evening devoted to canvassing may secure one or more of these volumes.

They are among the most practical works now published on the subject treated. With this collection of books in his library, neither the beginner nor the more advanced farmer need go further for the instruction desired in any branch of his pursuits.

They are here placed within the reach of every young man in the country without a dollar in money.

Specimen copies of the paper sent free to any address.

THANKSGIVING FOR THE CHILDREN OF OUR VOLUNTEERS.—Friends of the soldier, remember the Orphans now left without their father's care—remember them on THANKSGIVING DAY.

All are invited to contribute money, clothing, or provisions, to the little ones now at the UNION HOME SCHOOL, No. 20 East 42d-st.

Over One Hundred and Thirty children of our brave soldiers have been received into the above institution, since the Society was organized, (May 22, 1861, and charter for it by an act passed by the Legislature April 24, 1862,) and notwithstanding the many calls upon the benevolent public, the lady managers have been enabled to continue their work of mercy, and have not asked in vain, as their yearly report will show. Will not the generous and warm-hearted friends of the Orphans remember them now? God has taken from them their fathers, in some cases, their mothers, and again little motherless hands reach out your alms upward, are led by their fathers, who are now fighting for our flag. Let us hope the hearts of the many little ones in our charge may be made happy and glad, and their wants supplied on Thanksgiving Day.

Donations will be gladly received at No. 20 East 42d-st., by the Managers, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, and THURSDAY of the present week, from 9 A. M. until 5 P. M., of each day.

THE DISTRESS IN LANCASHIRE.

Terrible Effects of the Cotton-Famine in England.

Misery of a Million of People in One District for Want of Work and Living on Charity.

Facts, Figures and Incidents of the Suffering.

Details of the Numbers Unemployed and the Amount Given in the Towns and Hamlets of Lancashire.

Whether humanity, from our island English brethren, will receive the sympathy due to the unexampled suffering in the cotton manufacturing districts of Lancashire, England. The details are generally brought up to the close of the first week in the present month.

EXTENT AND GROWTH OF THE FAMINE.

Our advices from the Boards of Guardians show that for the eight weeks from Nov. 6 the increase has been about rate of about 2,000 to 2,500 per week, and that the total number of paupers (relieved) at their week ending Oct. 25 gives a more startling proof of the extent of the distress. The effects, then, of the commencement of employment are not felt immediately, while in many new cases where customers mainly belong to the working classes, the new working their appearance in large numbers at the Guardians and the Relief Committees. The expansion of business in Manchester, too, is being felt in various ways, in small, the warehouses, every opportunity is taken of reducing clerks, and of putting off all employees of a similar class; in others they have been put on half time, and it is feared that there will be a very large proportion of clerks, bookkeepers and warehousemen, put out of employment, and already many have to submit to a reduction of salary. It is a rare thing to see any of the great warehouses lit up at night, where there is nothing to do, it is better to pay 10s. or 20s. a week and save the expense of gas.

THE NUMBERS SUFFERING.

At October 25 there were 208,621 persons receiving parochial relief, being above 500 times the number in receipt of it last year, and more by 68,456 than the return for the last week in August last. Of these 48,000 are children, one must be receipt of parochial relief were added by local committees. Of these 48,000 are children, in the twenty-four unions, the proportion is greatest, but 58,[illegible] are "casual" [illegible] are thrown entirely out of employment. The loss of wages in consequence is estimated at £138,094, and the loss of profit at more than £7,000,000 a year. The Guardians have to provide, from the ordinary rates, for the support of the operatives, but to such as do serve not [illegible] of capital sunk in buildings and land, besides a business profit.

Assume, to supply the fearful deficit of £138,094 in wages, the Government should place at present a sum which cannot be just higher than £10,000, since out of their total expenditure of £13,637 in out-door and indoor relief issued in taken, the normal cost of pauperism is average season. The Central Relief Committee at Manchester dispense about £6,000 (£256,000 per month,) and the Manchester Committee, only £3,000 last week. All the funds, therefore, from these sources [illegible] amount to more than a third of what these operatives lost in the shape of earnings, and it is feared that the amount of private charity and local relief [illegible] cannot be expected to exceed, at most, a third of the amount of parochial relief, and that the total amount of relief, public and private, will be about £1,000,000, but of this a very large proportion is already expended.

The General Relief Committee, in their report for the week ending 25 October, say that the number of persons in receipt of parochial relief, in 26 Unions of the district, had risen to 206,723, in addition to 45,223 relieved by the Relief Committee, and further, 143,670 persons, not in receipt of parochial relief, were aided by the Relief Committee. The number of operatives in the same district, to fall work is now reduced to 50,000, while the number working short time is increased to 119,712, and 162,401 are thrown entirely out of employment. The Committee of course is unbiased, but there is no doubt that the earnings of the working classes are almost exhausted. By the close of the first week of September the report says that the number of operatives entirely unemployed had risen to about 80,000.

THE AMERICAN WAR AND THE DISTRESS.

The General Relief Committee, in a report, say: "Your Committee express their regret that the appeal of the American struggle leaves no hope that the sufferings of our population will have an early termination; should this war be immediately settled, it would still take some time before our spindles and looms can be again humming their song of industry. We therefore conclude that the distribution of bread, meat, soup, clothing, bedding and coals must be continued throughout the ensuing Winter."

From Times Correspondent.

The prospect darkens each day, and unfortunately [illegible] of a break in it. Business in the Manchester market is virtually at a stand-still, and notwithstanding the recent arrivals of cotton, the course of what trade there is steadily tends to a standstill of transaction. It is difficult to foresee in what quarter a ray of intuition can be expected for the next three or two months at least, for anomalous as it may seem, the announcement of a speedy settlement of the American difficulty would probably have the effect of throwing out of employment a large proportion of those who are fortunate enough still to be in receipt of wages. Mr. Gladstone's speech at Newcastle, which by many was looked on as a sort of semi-official foreshadowing of something being about to happen which might possibly liberate the Southern cotton crop, is said to have created quite a little panic here, and induced many manufacturers to buy raw cotton altogether. It we could only have a perfect assurance that the war would not last twelve months, or that no cotton would come from the South for two years or eighteen months, the prospects of the mass of the large manufacturing districts, to say nothing of that of the gigantic population of the district, not a stocking, not a shirt, not a handkerchief, not a yard of calico, not a shawl, not a shoe, not a hat, not a bonnet, not a glove, not a stick of ribbon, not a yard of lace, not a yard of tape, not a yard of ribbon, not a yard of braid, not a yard of elastic
